Luxury Without Compromise

Who knew that weathered, vintage and antiques would become such a hot commodity? This might just be the right time to sift through your parents and grandparents' goods to find those perfect pieces.

Trunks and trundles are functional pieces for big spaces, small spaces and even lofts. They make for fun furniture and work well as side tables, coffee tables or just as an accent piece or divider in any room. They are also great for storage! There is a certain charm about buckles, straps and belts and the intricate hardware that we see on trunks, it's a total throw-back to the glamorous days of travel.

When it comes to the floors there is yet another layer of texture and pattern here. There are ample vintage rugs to choose from, whether yours is handed down from generations or you choose from a reproduction. Check out Vivienne Westwood's Aubusson rugs, a funky Union Jack or an image of some rubbish, both are hip and speak "vintage". For a cheeky statement, you can also opt to hang these rugs on the walls.

Whether your taste appeals to French Country, UK-Chic or Equestrian, you can be sure to find similar pieces of furniture and accessories for each one of these since they share many of the same aesthetics, from rustic natural woods, classic marbles, to weathered and industrial inspired finds.

Vintage Bedding is a fun departure from the traditional hotel linens. These patterns and prints make for vintage, relaxed and preppy looks. Mix and match these complementary styles by layering various textures and hues for that added feeling of luxury.
