

Dvira Ovadia (dvira.com)

benjaminmoore.com
2022-50 Sundance

Colour makes a splash this Summer!

With Summer here it is all about vivid colours and fun patterns. Among vivid greens, blues and reds, yellow is one of the 'it' colours this season. From fresh paint colours to decorative accessories for the home, these features are sure to brighten up any space. The target hue for this summer season is Benjamin Moore Sundance 2022-50. Using this tone as marker for accents is key, while using lighter shades in the same family work best for walls.

umbra.com

Wallflowers

Do-it-yourself flowers on the wall are fun and friendly. Adding texture to your walls with simple summer flower accents makes for a clever wall application. Brighten up a bedroom, kitchen or home office with these blooms. Let your creativity run loose; apply beautiful wall flowers in random flowing patterns.

For information visit umbra.com

A mini makeover

Keep your neutral essentials and add a splash of yellow with inexpensive vases, candles and accents that can be easily interchanged with the seasons. Consider it a mini makeover that you can cater to each mood, season or occasion.

For information visit bouclair.com

A new twist on an old favourite

Nothing says retreat like Muskoka chair! What was once a big clunker is now a contemporary piece with a whimsical twist. Chairs that you can sink yourself into are essential for summer indulging. These come at an affordable price tag with vivid colours that spell fun.

For information visit pchome.com

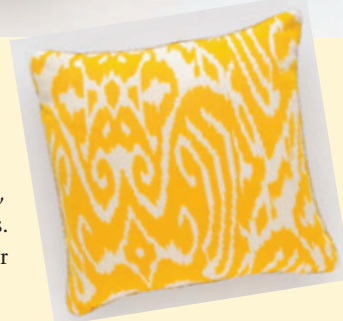

Hostess with the mostest!

Summer entertaining just got refreshed. Whether you are on your outdoor terrace or indoor living space, keeping your beverages away from the hustle and bustle of the kitchen and in a tailored stand will make you look like a hostess with the mostest! Unique furniture pieces that are functional and aesthetically pleasing will have your guests believing that you've got it all organized with a touch of style.

For information visit crateandbarrel.com

Ikat

A popular pattern hitting both the runways and home stores is called Ikat, typically seen in various South American countries and in the Far East, the pattern was developed as a style of weaving which utilizes a dying process that has been compared to tie-die. The patterns are blurry and irregular, an ethnic style which is a bohemian approach and a departure from the western crisp linear patterns. The Ikat blueprint which has been revived and introduced into modern Western design can be seen on everything from textiles, bedding, pillows and various other home decor accessories. Madeline Weinrib, a hip designer has developed her own take on the Ikat prints.

For information visit ycocarpet.com

Double it up

The Guzzini laundry hamper is a fun and refreshing object for the home. This beautifully designed pear-shaped hamper can be cleverly doubled up as a night table or accent table. This is a great solution for tight spaces and getting the most out of attractive designer pieces. In yellow, orange, lime green or red, any colour will be sure to pack a punch!

For more information visit fratelliguzzini.com
Available at urbanmode.com